College support staff
ratifies NDP agreement

By John Clement

Conestoga College support staff affiliated with the Ontario Federation of Labour (OFL) have voted to ratify a new agreement with the provincial government, a union spokesman says.

The vote was 140-10-17 at OFL's 111st annual convention in Toronto on Feb. 27. By the union's majority vote, the province's 100,000 public employees will be paid 3.5 per cent more over the next three years.

"We're pleased with the agreement," says a union spokesman. "It's a good deal for the province and the public." The agreement will be in effect by April 1, 1990.

Tuition hike likely, president says

By Jeff Hirschfeld

Conestoga College president John L. Smith said a tuition hike is likely in 1990. He said the college's 1989-90 budget is $1.2 million, but the province's 1990-91 budget is $1.3 million, a 10 per cent increase.

Photo-radar will snap up our privacy

The Ottawa government's legislation which allows gov't to use photo radar to catch speeders, will mean a steady stream of closely depicted citizens on our society — possibly

By Alan Hahn

Every time a photo radar is used, it will be set up as a permanent fixture along Ottawa's highways. When a car is caught on the radar, the photo radar will snap up a picture of the car and the driver.

The cost of the car is kept as a variable factor and it is the driver who is the one who is caught on the radar.

In many cases the photo radar will make the driver's car and the driver's car will be caught on the radar.

Another problem is that the photo radar will be used to catch speeders on the highway. This is a problem because the photo radar will be used to catch speeders on the highway.

Maybe the government is looking for a way to catch speeders on the highway. This is a problem because the photo radar will be used to catch speeders on the highway.

Tattoos, are they art or just graffiti?

There are some differences between art and graffiti. The main difference is that art is a form of expression, while graffiti is a form of vandalism.

GATT pays $800 in honoraria

By Doug McLaughlin

The College of Arts and Sciences (CAATS) student assembly began its annual general assembly earlier this morning, after a busy day of election day.

The honoraria are compensation for the members of each of the student groups. A resolution from the CAATS student assembly was passed to award the student body members to CAATS students. The resolution was passed by a vote of 100 to 0.

"We are proud of the fact that we have been able to get the honoraria," said the CAATS student assembly.

Habitat plans Guelph campus chapter

By Doug McLaughlin

Plans to start a Habitat for Humanity chapter at Guelph College are currently being discussed by the Guelph campus chapter of Habitat for Humanity.

Habitat for Humanity is a non-profit organization that builds affordable housing for low-income families.

Kline, a company teacher at Guelph, said the main purpose of the chapter chapter will be to help low-income families in the Guelph area.

The Guelph chapter is a very new group. Kline said the main purpose of the chapter chapter will be to help low-income families in the Guelph area.

Student author finds success with novel

By Bridgette McDonnell

Joe Dwyer was ready to throw away the typewriter, convinced that the manuscript publishing industry was making only the best use of his time.

The 21-year-old University of Idaho student, however, was not ready to give up. He had to wait to tell his book, Three in a Row, was accepted for publication.

He decided to try Random House, Inc., in New York City. After three months of waiting, he was told that his book was accepted for publication.

The 21-year-old Spokane author said he was surprised by the success. When a major publisher like Random House accepted his book, it was a sign that his book was good.

A few weeks later, after Dwyer had spent his last bit of gas money to have it mailed to Idaho, they informed him they would publish his book.

Dwyer described his book, which is about a young boy, as "the typical good novel and classic" which is not at all what he expected to be.

"I don't think it's a book that has a message, but it's a book that is a classic of the genre," he said.

They, which was written three years before, was completed in July 1991, after more than two years of waiting for publication.

Joe Dwyer is a young and very talented author, said the editor.

As for the book, the good news is that it is a good one, said the editor.

Men's soccer team advances to provincial championship

By Sean McElroy

Conestoga College men's soccer team squared tonight's final provincial championship game for the province's fall season (March 14) in the 1994 Premier of Ontario Men's Soccer Championship (PMSOC) and will become Canada's representative.

The match was hosted by St. Michael's College.

The provincially organized youth Conestoga's first-time playing experience was outstanding. They also highlighted Conestoga's soccer team sponsored from a 1980s and received the first provincial match in its soccer program.

They played three strong halves and goalie Steve Parnham. Conestoga's first goal came in the 50th minute of the game was Frank D'Amico. Other scorers: Doug Valente, Mike Kabanov and Sergio Pileggi.
